Dear Mike,

During my career in the security systems sector i have used several of the major monitoring stations and I made the decision to migrate all our contracts over to AIM, this was not just fiscally driven but mainly due to the fact that the staff at AIM have a professional approach to the provision of what is essentially an extension of our company, giving our clients the comfort that the correct procedures are carried out to the highest standards.

Our Account Manager, Mike McHale is always available should he be required and is a regular and welcome visitor to our company .

The Admin staff under John Cottam is a credit to the company and is a reliable and willing group, these guys get the job done and are an invaluable asset to all companies who deal with AIM.

The out of hours bureau and alarm monitoring team are again a credit to AIM and ourselves, as the front of our company to our customers they give a reassuring presence.

I would urge any alarm company thinking of changing to Aim to DO IT, and any questions you have either contact my office and chat to me or ask any of the other happy clients of AIM.

Thank you AIM and I look forward to the next 10 years plus of association with you.
